

To the right worshipful Master
 GEORGE
 S A V I L E <sub>5</sub> son and heir to Sir
 GEORGE
 S A V I L E knight^ his most approved
 kind patron; health^ honour,
 and happiness,

FFSPRING of Gentry, sprig for Honour drest, 'Tis half your loss (O hell!) but all my blame, In proper words your worth should not b'express* Let It suffice that I adore your name!
 Then pardon what is wanting! I will owe it;
 And as I'm able, I will pay, I vow it!

Meanwhile, accept this Poem to our King!
 Peruse it at your leisure, half or all!
 Your Worship's worth, our Muse shall shortly sing;
 Though in true Poesy, her skill *s but small:
 Howe'er it be, accept her pure goodwill!
 She rests at your command^ in all save 111.

Your Worship's
 Ever ready at command In all duty.

J O H N
 SAVILE.
